

To Be Undone

by A. Pseudonym

To fix a word in repetition until it's just a noise

To diminish the mountain by looking too hard like looking at the sun and blinding it

To lose the borders
To lose the view

To choose a stone perch in center of the sea where you will stay, a stylite, unaffected

To find yourself strange yourself the unfamiliar thing of all things

To feel your way through - hands before your face, heart without blood - the space inside your skull

To forget the way to see the world as a solid thing,

To fail to recall the point
