Sonnet for a Unicorn

by Agnes Ezra Arabella

My sweet baby angel has baby hair Baby angel has a golden cross lit looking at the crystal pig and kind mare The drowning unicorn comes from the waves in fits. My sweet baby angel has baby talk Baby angel has a diamond shape scar buried heart shaped next to the key and lock On the nightstand, coal mined like blackened tar. My sweet baby angel has baby blood Baby angel has bed clothes so worn Nightgown like a cow with pretty dirt cud The drowning unicorn sweetened with corn. This is the princess tarred with old coal- shoot her So the glass horse symbolizes Buddha.
