

WE WOKE UP LEAN

by Amanda Deo

I smoke gently on your chest. We were careful not to wake the kids & goodbye with a handshake & my skeleton is trapped with your universe inside. I grew up in the living room & hatched during the delivery of us but no one cared.

Your heart sounds like spokes. Isn't breaking. Not at all.

