

Lesson 38

by Ann Bogle

The verb "tener" (to have) (present tense)

I have a book.

You are hungry./You have hunger.

You have a big bed.

He has a wife.

She has a child.

We have a problem.

You have a house (plural, as in Spain)

You have a house (plural)

They have tickets for a trip to Spain.

I have a father.

You have a mother.

My house has three doors.

It has seven windows also.

We have time.

You have a pen.

They have some tickets for the ferry boat.

They have some gifts for their husbands.

(from onlingo by Henry N. Raymond)

