

Lost and Found

by Anthony M. Powers

Liz found a job back home helping nursing students get their GEDs that came with full benefits, including the chance to move out of her parent's house.
Geoff found a place to live in Boston with some friends from high school who are letting him sublet and play guitar or bass in a couple of their bands.
Christian found a nude beach in Hawaii where he learned to surf while on a long vacation for his parents 25th anniversary.
Adrienne found her calling in Africa feeding poor children or whatever the fuck you do when you're in the Peace Corps.
Katie found a liquor store in New York City strategically placed on the ground floor of her dorm at NYU while attending the publishing institute there.

I found the remote control and 17 cents under the couch at my parents house.

