

Artefact

by Bill Yarrow

The only thing I have left of my maternal grandfather is a small hand-held mirror made of ivory.

It sits in the upstairs bedroom dresser drawer like an only child.

I have yet to see myself in it.

