

IRON Meditations (thoughts while pressing a clean shirt for work)

by Carl Santoro

Is wind like music?

Is music like wind?

Each experience is a separate reality.

A bird's sky, laced with clouds and branches-
we know nothing of it.

It knows nothing of my noisy refrigerator.

And yet we are all

inmates of the same

molecular soup we call

life.

