

My Father Said, "I Miss the Game."

by Carl Santoro

But I was dreaming.
Of course he misses it,
he has been dead 13 years.

I guess he meant
the game of life
that we are all playing
all the time.

Some choose to play by the rules
others have their way with us.
It IS a game
after all.

It made me want
to
play
harder.

Enjoy the players
and the playground.
