

Jack Noodle

by Chad Smith

you'll do fine, just picture them naked no wait

that was supposed to be for speeches, not job interviews uh oh, too late

everyone is naked
VERY good to meet you

I chuckled every time I got an email from Mr. Noodle my three-year-old daughter loves Mr. Noodle

Huh? yeah, oh that's funny is that a cartoon character?

No he's just a guy, live action you know, kid's stuff

So you printed your resume on this coffee cup that's something

I wanted you guys to think about me every morning while you were getting your coffee

It says on the coffee mug that your last job was nine months ago?

Yeah, I wrote poetry, looked at the internet, listened to music watched movies, read books, drank beer

Never napped but thought about it So you were fired?

No laid off. work dried up you know this economy is killing everything

What sort of job are you looking for?
I guess mostly I am tired of working for a paycheck

What, so you want to work for free?
No I want to work for love

You probably don't want to work here then Not really
