

Time

by Damion Hamilton

Time

Doesnt exist

We're told it exist

The sun rises and fall

And people exist for the eight
Hour day

But time does not exist

Human beings put TIME in their lives

To give it order

Most people always seem to be looking for order!!

Amidst the chaos
It goes very fast for some

Very slow for others
People want hours, minutes, seconds and days months years

Time can move so slow if you let it,

So quickly if you let others do it for you

I like sitting somewhere and letting go like that

As i hear tires roar on pavement

You can snore even when you are awake.
