

Conjecture

by Darby Harn

Sunday, May 9, 1773

Sir —

The world must at present be perpetual
on the primitive state of human nature

Conjecture

The jealousy and envy boils over
a dead weight
strangled serpents in the Temple

