

Tendrils

by David Ackley

You stand on the shore your perpetual history curling and foaming at your feet smoke curls from the horizon your father was all at sea

And his And his on your tongue salt meets salt

Blood of our fathers.

