

Fire

by Deborah Oster Pannell

I like burning lavender on glowing charcoal and dancing hard,
thinking about long futures
and deep moments.
I want to cry and then scream and I don't feel like cleaning up.
If I can keep a rhythm going long enough,
I think I can build anything.

