

Poof

by Dianne McKnight-Warren

Yesterday's protest was not as convivial as the protest two months ago although the crowd was larger and the temperature higher. In February we stood in below zero weather but peoples's smiles warmed us. Yesterday the cold was raw, bitter, and people weren't smiling. In spite of the odd joy of bubble machines.

