

Betrayal

by Ed Higgins

Betrayal of course is the great human crime. As I found out when I discovered my lover was betraying me, even though I was betraying her too with another woman. The bitch. Unbelievable. You've only got to watch daytime TV to know this is absolutely true. Even though TV's something of a false mirror. But that's the point isn't it? You still can see yourself, sort of. So you know it isn't just fucking fiction anymore, it's fucking betrayal!

So long, Baby!
