

THE AUDIT

by Eric Boyd

During the audit, as the woman from the IRS combed through his receipts, he thought of how much simpler things were in the county jail.

