

ORPHANS

by Estelle Bruno

They wait for me every morning these two furry four legged cats when they hear my car, their eyes open wide and they nuzzle each other in anticipation of the food I bring them

