

assemblage x + 1

by Gary Hardaway

all words are found words unless you mint them yourself but then they'd still be made of found letters unless you designed the letters yourself in which case you'd still be in debt to something you found but don't remember finding so here we all are deep in debt hopeless of ever being un beholden and original

