At the Christmas Carol Bar

by Gary Hardaway

I'll take my Christmas carols neatno jazzy ice, no rockabilly twist, no bluesy bitters. Give me something aged at least a hundred years in English or continental oak, its nativity sweetness cut by a foretaste of Good Friday.

Available online at «http://fictionaut.com/stories/gary-hardaway/at-the-christmas-carol-bar--2» Copyright © 2011 Gary Hardaway. All rights reserved.