

Exsanguinations

by Gary Hardaway

We bleed information.
Corporate leaches fatten-up
and yet grow nimble on the flow.
The streams of data glisten
crimson in the spreading grid.

