

Happy Is a Poem

by Gary Hardaway

Happy people don't need poems.
They observe, remarking with a yes-- no need to write it if you live it, conscious of the light, the shape, the sound, the taste, and shadow.
Lives are poems for the happy
who read and answer, yes.
The poet lives on paper.

