

Self Portrait with Google

by Gary Hardaway

Some days, you just want to stay at home and Google yourself to find out who you are and what you are because you can't remember.

Try it with and without middle name or middle initial.

Try different keywords.
Maybe, amid the electron residue, you will find enough of yourself to remember your self by.

Maybe you will come to recognize the odd, haggard figure in your mirror
