

Sunday Morning Series- 6: I Love You, Man, but Hate Your God

by Gary Hardaway

Your God's a narcissist-petulant, capricious, and perverse.
Were He real outside your mind, I wouldn't fear but only loathe Him despite the certainty of hell, etcetera.

But if He makes you happy, stands as bulwark against the vast, indifferent and deadly universe, then cling to Him as, all around, surging waters wash away what life for you on earth depends upon, and be glad. We'll mourn and bury what remains.
