

Spring Darkness In the Age of Video

by Gerta Bausche

This spring darkness is winding around my neck in the age of video, how many times I've seen her at the zoo with your eyes, as if seeing for the first time her early morning breath, tripping your woman, your angel as she arrived on the beach when it was still too dark to see how many paintings you owned but couldn't you? yet see how many ways?

Go forward, in tiny earthworm tips she starts, like I did, a damaged bone
