

Apocalypse in G # Minor

by James Lloyd Davis

Staying alive is job one in slow motion. Minutes pass, each precious as pearls on a finite string. Time still feels endless, so there is no fear. Peace like a river.

