

Trio of Found Poems

by Jeff Geiger

Paper Bird

the Blue Motown Man
with Bells and Pennies Livin' on a Train
in St. Louis

he drinks
his Coffee Black and Grey and Blue
with Blue Sparks

she knew The Structure Of Love lived in Colorado Dead As A Deadman's Bone
was carried away by a Band of Angels

the Steady Yellow Sun beats on the Sailor
among Boxcars & Thistles he sings a Lullaby to the Bumblebee gone from Riches to Rags

Devotchka

The Man From San Sebastian stands in The Alley and hears the Bad Luck Heels Sunshine in his eyes

You Love Me
Too Tired

No One Is Watching
you're Ruthless and Exhaustible you're Such A Lovely Thing

the Dearly departs All The Sand In All The Sea the New World is undone this is How It Ends

TV On The Radio

it was a Modern Romance on Lover's Day You wore your Red Dress but I went The Wrong Way Stared At The Sound and went Blind you Shout Me Out and ran Halfway Home crying the things you can do to a Wolf Like Me I Was A Lover
we were Young Liars
but now I'm just Mr. Grieves
