

A Burst of Color

by Jerry Ratch

There's a sudden
Burst of color
Like the dispersal of a ghost
In a light wind
And now candy wrappers are Scattered all over the heavens

It looks like God got lit up
By the sky
As we flew too close to His face
In a thunderstorm nearby
In the night

