

Music in Berkeley

by Jerry Ratch

There I saw a woman with dyed long red hair
Dressed all in furs and a short tight skirt Way too young for her age
And she was banging a tampon on her leg
At the performance of Ramblin Jack Eliot

And no one got up to throw red wine on her Full mink coat, or ermine, or rabbit
In it, she looked a little like a bear

