

Note To Self

by Jerry Ratch

Along with Bad Bunny comes the reckless dancing the ambulance chases and the long, drawn-on faces

It is well known unemployment can be found at the end of the moon but do we know anything at all about the howling?

We need more insensitive dogs around here that's all Things that don't bark at the drop of a hat

We need more signs such as
"Cow-Tipping Not Allowed"
or at least
"Cow-Tipping Strongly Discouraged" Things like that to keep out the hayseeds

Who said anything about the red glazed chickens beside the rain-filled wheelbarrow anyway?

In the room beside the moon
I heard Walt Whitman singing "Can I Go To the Bathroom With You?"

Don't pay anymore attention to this than you have to I just use my middle finger for convenience
