

The Artist Wannabe

by Jerry Ratch

I wanted to be an artist in those days.

I wanted to put meaning on a cabbage head,
but only put a shower cap on it.

I tried to claim Hot Weather
as an ongoing, open-air environmental art piece
that was always happening
somewhere in the world.

But the famous art teacher told me:

“Nevermind. Let's just rap.”

