

The French Horn Behind Me

by Jerry Ratch

When I looked back
There was a trail behind me
My two footprints
Trudging along in the snow
On the long walk to school

And right there beside me
That single wobbling
Snail-like trail of my heavy
French Horn case

Like God. Like a reminder
Of the burden
That is ever with us
Wherever we go

