The French Horn Behind Me

by Jerry Ratch

When I looked back
There was a trail behind me
My two footprints
Trudging along in the snow
On the long walk to school

And right there beside me That single wobbling Snail-like trail of my heavy French Horn case

Like God. Like a reminder Of the burden That is ever with us Wherever we go