

Undressing The Moon

by Jerry Ratch

the white moon is dangling by a thread tonight

you close your eyes
and listen to it undress and suppress, suppress

you listen to it undress while you yourself hang lifeless in your own arms

not meaning to do yourself any harm, not meaning to do yourself harm

and only by its gentleness can you come back
from that edge

