

Vanity Among Pigeons

by Jerry Ratch

About four in the afternoon a pigeon began admiring itself in the shiny panel of a car door until another pigeon came along and it quit acting foolish.

