Abandoned

by Johnny Dantonio

How could you run from me now? The loneliest child in the house The loneliest child in the house Don't let me out Don't let me out

Come to me Calvary Hill I'm breathing and sleeping, but still I'm seeping inside of a dungeon house This noose — This noose could kill

Counting repetitive days I'm breathing, outside it rains You stuck me inside of this cage Alone I am I am displacing

Come to me, no matter how gray For I'm the ugliest brain For I'm the loneliest brain The progeny of wrath

The reckless waste.
