

Viva la Doglady!

by kate gillespie

The dog catcher appeared to be trolling the neighborhood in his doggy death van.

Mrs Walters gestured at him in an very un-old ladylike way. She was out for her morning walkies with her fat little pug called "BooBoobear ".

Mrs Walters suddenly began to shout " Here comes trouble!!" over and over to the world at large, a warning to doglovers to save their fur friends.

BooBoobear made a few steamers along the sidewalk at intervals, which is what was left behind.

Mrs Walters is no pooper scooper.
