

Other Peoples Churches

by Peter Erich

When I hear a hymn
of increasing algae,
I spin a tin cup
with a light touch.

When I hear a hymn
of cooking lentils,
I am apparently
lazier than kelp.

When I hear a hymn
of self contained friendship,
I boomer-rang all day.

Sunlight does not mean grace.

