

Loop

by stephen hastings-king

At night, I watch TV shows with fictional characters who lead my life. Later I dream about morning walks and the insect drones from overhead transformers that spread networks of cracks over the streets. Every morning's walk is exactly as I dreamed it. My experience is a film of itself.

