

pop music till yer brains bulge blue!

by strannikov

path of less resistance

another way to think of pay and non-pay burst balloons:
consider joblessness (hooray)
what it costs and what it pays.
anticipate now that dire days
could overtake you soon:
don't put off your suicide bash,
buy your rope while you still have cash!

rhythm melody synthetic beats tempos for affective response timed to coincide with thoughts of exchanging cash.

music to buy by music to sell to (music, that is, to salivate to)

high production values on display (separate horns for engineered sounds)
to accompany all economic deeds.

music to buy with music to sell with (degraded music, that is, just noise)

every color of sound turned to green human beasts' treadmill tastes must be trained:
we may yet starve to death, but we'll die de-brained!

music to buy for music to sell for (invisible music hardly sounds)

alien enthusiasms lit
victims symptoms of a slipping age (why, it's chronometer calibration time!):

pop music till yer brains bulge blue!
