

To Know but not Really

by Susan Davis

So strange this feeling
To meet someone I've haven't really met
To know someone I don't actually know
To desire to learn more but sure I never will
To feel connected not knowing what I'm connected to
To read words, thoughts, feel moved by them, but never hear a voice

