

The Savage (K2)

by Tabatha Stirling

Rises monstrous out of the Baltoro Glacier Playing poker with oxygen levels Plays leap frog with embolisms.
Malice and vanity join forces so murder guns the air even before the Death Zone. Down suits, bold and cocky registers the climber's ambitions.

The Serac , a crisp, white wall of kill, threatens to round and pound for days before it does so, a devious cancer waiting for its moment.
Art's rescue was in full flow when the avalanche took him and he faded into powder.

All the boys gone, doing what they loved Big Ger and Rolf, who left his Cecilie on the ropes. Wilco's lust for his summit saw the Koreans tangled and questions asked.
No answers, though, and ninety different stories Crowded into a bottleneck of truth and lies as the moans of Winter's ghosts howled louder.
