Darkness On My Mind

by Tim G. Young

Darkness is on my mind the end of time or the beginning I don't know

Sipping wine in the candle light makes me wish I was rich but I don't really care as long as I find another bottle

So I bring Darkness on my mind
shooting out the street lights sledgehammer the head lights until I find the peace in the Darkness of my mind

And I say
Darkness on my mind
doesn't make me blind but then I think about all the words that rage inside and rhyme
charging madly
into all those spaces where the light is never allowed to shine

So I live within my Darkness that I dare to believe is mine flashing inside a candle flame and one more sip of wine
