One Star by Tim G. Young

One star shines

from out my windshield

my rock n roll window

so high up

it's a wonder I can see

but somehow that light

has found me

only a speck

in the endless night

but brave and true

make no mistake