

Life of a Dead Bird

by XXXX

I have the idea but cannot find the words and many times I have deferred to the birds—so much of this empire
of beans and curds
Were built from Sieges, Wars, and Swords, things for which we have only open wounds,
never words.

